DBCI LAUNCHES NEW WEB SITE

ATLANTA – DBCI, an industry-leading supplier of steel curtain roll-up doors for commercial and industrial applications and self-storage doors and accessories, recently launched its new Web site at www.dbci.com. The user-friendly site allows viewers access to information about DBCI, its products and color options for DBCI doors. The site also features a Resource Center where individuals can submit requests for literature or a quote, obtain installation instructions and installer support, or review a glossary for those not familiar with industry-related terms.

DBCI's headquarters is located in Atlanta with additional locations in Houston, Texas, and Chandler, Ariz. It also has a distribution center in Ontario, Calif. For more information, visit the new Web site or call (800) 542-0501.
