Bray Allen, Technical Sales

DBCI of Douglasville, GA, a division of NCI Group, proudly announces the newly created position of Technical Sales. This position will focus on providing customers with custom solutions for both commercial and mini-storage doors. Six year DBCI veteran, Bray Allen, will assume this role based at DBCI's headquarters in Douglasville, GA. Bray currently serves as head of Research and Development and Inside Sales Representative. Mr. Allen will continue to focus on forward thinking solutions as head of R&D along with the added responsibilities of his new position in Technical Sales.

Bray brings 15 years of experience within the door industry; nine years with Quality Garage Doors and six years with DBCI. For more information about Custom Solutions contact Bray Allen at 800.542.0501.

DBCI is a leader in designing and manufacturing commercial-grade steel curtain roll-up doors and self-storage solutions. DBCI maintains its success by focusing on the key components of business: quality, product development and service. For more information: www.dbci.com .
